

Transitioning Students from Print to Braille: Thoughts and Experiences of TSVIs in the United States and Canada

Conducted by: Dr. Tina Herzberg, University of South Carolina Upstate

Dr. Mary Robbins, University of South Carolina Upstate

Dr. L. Penny Rosenblum, University of Arizona

We are seeking teachers of students with visual impairments (TSVIs) in the United States and Canada to participate in an on-line survey about their thoughts and experiences transitioning children from print to braille.

Teachers of students with visual impairments must:

- Teach in the United States or Canada
- Have transitioned a student from print to braille during the 2012-2013, 2013-2014, and/or 2014-2015 school year
- Be willing to complete an online survey that will take approximately 30 minutes

Steps to Participate in the Study:

- Visit <https://www.surveymonkey.com/s/FJK368G> and read a letter of invitation.
- Consent to participate in the study.
- Complete the online survey about your thoughts and experiences transitioning students from print to braille by April 30, 2015.

For more information contact:

Dr. Tina Herzberg
University of South Carolina Upstate
School of Education
800 University Way
Spartanburg, SC 29369
864-503-5572
therzberg@uscupstate.edu